

Game 1:

Brown 19-17 Keene Selects (Brown Seniors)

Keene Selects opened the scoring, going up 5-0. Brown hit back to make it 5-5. Then hit the conversion to go up 7-5 just before the half. Brown scored first in the second half, 12-5. Keene levelled, 12-12. Keene then pulled out a very cheeky trick play from a tap penalty that let Dylan Lewis sneak in for a score and a 17-12 lead with not much time left on the clock. Brown got the starting 7 back on the field in the final seconds, and scored a try as time expired. Conversion to win it. Brown won 19-17. Keene Selects made several audacious catches from their own kick-offs. Brown did just enough defensively to reel in those line breaks and stay in the game.

Game 2:

Keene Selects 5-17 URI

The extended break wasn't quite extended enough for the Seniors, who ran out of gas, and players, by the end of this game. URI scored first. 5-0 to URI at the half. Keene Selects tied the game right after halftime. But URI was too big, athletic, and fresh, and scored twice more to make it a 17-5 win for URI. Keene Selects speedster Ammar Dhillon, unfortunately, tore his hamstring as he was away down the sideline, in what would have been a sure 7 points, making the game much more of a contest. Matt Mitchell and Dylan Lewis were also injured, which hurt the seniors. Omar Al-Jendari showed tremendous pace in chasing down a URI player after a line break but didn't quite catch him in time to stop the score.

Game 3 - Final

Brown 25-0 URI

Brown controlled the game well and held on to possession for most of the game. Some long kickoffs from freshman Malcolm Grant put URI in their backfield, which they struggled to get out of for large parts of the match. When they did, the Brown defense was strong. The few line breaks were chased down aggressively. Craig Michalowski scored a hat-trick in the final. But the man of the match was Malcolm Grant. Controlled possession well, and defended like a demon. Scored an amazing solo try to put the game out of reach for URI.
